Can I drive an RV with a regular driver's license?

Yes! A valid passenger vehicle driver's license from the country of residence is mandatory. No additional license is required.

What are the benefits of owning an RV?

Canada is the perfect country to own an RV. Thanks to our lifestyle and all the great spots, often secluded and off the beaten track.

An RV offers you the flexibility to go where you want to go, when you want to go. You can travel at your own pace and discover roads and places, experiencing new things and making memories that will last forever.

Our RVs are equipped with living, dining, sleeping, kitchen and bathroom facilities that allow you to explore the great outdoors without missing out on the conveniences of home.

CanaDream RVs offer ample storage allowing your camping gear to live in the RV full time – everything is at your fingertips ready to go when the next trip may happen.

Visiting friends and family members – your new home on wheels gives you your own space; simply drive up and park in their driveway - if they'll let you!

Travelling with pets? They easily adapt to this lifestyle and you don't have to put them in a kennel. Let them enjoy the journey with you!

Less screen time, more green time! We hear it often, that parents want a way to get kids outdoors! The adventure life provides the perfect time to disconnect from technology to be able to reconnect with family and friends.

On the flip-side, using your RV as a remote office is a fantastic way to take advantage of hybrid work. With ample USB ports, 12V power sockets, and a generator on board (in most CanaDream RVs) you will have the flexibility to work when you want and from where you want!

The good life made great.

What to look for when buying your RV?

Before you start looking around, stop and think about how you are going to use your RV. Short trips, visits to family and friends, spontaneous camping - how do you intend to use your vehicle?

Do you intend to go off the grid for longer periods? You would need to think about self containment, fresh and waste tank sizes, batteries and solar panels.

What level of comfort do you desire? Do you want to get away from it all and get back to basics or take your home luxuries and comforts on holiday with you? These days your RV can have all the modern amenities plus some!

What are you prepared to spend? How many people will be travelling most of the time? Who will be travelling together the most? Do you need easy to use seating and bedding options because there are always more than two travelling, or if it's infrequent are you happy to set up beds and dismantle in the morning?

Do you have space to store your RV when not in use? CanaDream offers convenient storage at select locations. If storage is not available at your chosen location we would be happy to help you find an alternative.

in great places.

Requirements to consider to match your needs

---

What RV is right for you?

Read below and think about what model you're looking for.

Beds

- How many will you need? Doubles, singles? A decent bed means a decent night sleep, which makes all the difference when away from home.

Kitchen

- Would you use it? If so you will need a good working area, storage and appliances (stove, microwave, fridge, freezer, oven etc.). How much pantry storage will you need?

Facilities

- Are you happy to use facilities provided at a campsite or do you want your own shower and toilet for convenience?

Space

- Is the ceiling high enough for the tallest person travelling? How much time do you like to spend in your RV? Are you looking for room to host? Campground neighbours are often fast friends!

Self Containment

- Size of water tanks (fresh and waste), battery capacity, solar power, propane tank size, refrigeration capacity and general storage. Self containment doesn't mean roughing it – you should have the technology and facilities on board to enjoy life's luxuries while you're connecting with nature and all it has to offer.

The cost of ownership

The true cost of ownership goes beyond the initial purchase price. Do you have a clear and accurate picture of everything owning, using and maintaining an RV or campervan involves? The more you know, the more likely you will be to choose a vehicle that fits your budget.

The price tag is just one piece of the puzzle. Basic ownership expenses generally fall into six categories:

Financing: How you go about paying for your RV can make a great deal of difference in what you end up paying. CanaDream offers great in-house solutions for financing. We would be happy to help you find the perfect solution.

Insurance: Owners do need to purchase insurance. What type of coverage are you looking for? Remembering that in nature there are times where nature is not on your side. Windshield chips, hail damage, and roof repairs are all things to consider. Ask about our in-house solutions.

Maintenance and repairs: You can generally plan on a yearly service but repairs and upkeep should also be planned for.

Storage: If you don't have space at home you might have to pay for special parking. There are a number of options, including storage facilities.

Lifestyle and travel expenses: Fuel will represent the major part of the expense, but don't omit camping fees and other potential extras for access to fresh water or electricity. Ask about the benefits of our CanaDream Club.

Depreciation and selling cost: Life can change unexpectedly. If you are planning on owning your RV for a shorter amount of time, some market research will be important. Our Sales Professionals are happy to help discuss all the nitty gritty details of selling or upgrading your vehicle.
